SPERRY VAN NESS

Rock Hill, SC

ADAPTIVE REUSE

PROJECT DETAILS

This project converted and repurposed an old second floor space above the Chamber of Commerce for two different uses. The first served as the main office for the Sperry Van Ness Company and the second was a conversion to a co-working space. The conversion was unique in that we extracted, refinished and reused the existing lumber in the ceiling to create cladding throughout and added barn doors. Utilizing the existing lumber in the space was a fun way to reflect the historical significance of the space.
